Your Job Role:

An entire class will be assigned to one of the clients of this organisation. In groups of 4 or 5 you will work on a topic to contribute to a memory box for a client.

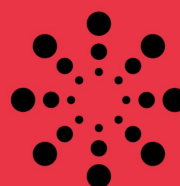

The topics which will be worked on are: the work the client used to do, their family life, hobbies that they used to undertake and their favourite music genre.

The groups will establish questions, based on their topic, that the client will be asked, via a MS Teams call and then gather that information to create a virtual memory box
